January 2020

As we begin a new year, this is a perfect time to review both for yourself and for your employees the basics of Performance Management and Development. This is a dedicated process in which supervisors and leaders are accountable for establishing and adjusting performance expectations. This includes job goals, identifying development opportunities, giving ongoing feedback, coaching, and recognizing and evaluating performance results. In other words, it is a continuous practice of planning, coaching, engaging, evaluating, and developing employees in their performance.

The resources below are available through Learning on Demand to assist you in exploring more on the topic of Performance Management and Development.

- Creating a Plan for Performance Management – course, 23 mins.
