

Performance Management and Development Spotlight for Supervisors

JANUARY 2021

As we close the chapter that was and begin the new, and hopefully very improved calendar year, what better time to review both for yourself and your employees the basics of Performance Management & Development.

This is a dedicated process in which supervisors and leaders are accountable for many things, including: establishing and adjusting performance expectations and job goals; identifying development opportunities; giving ongoing feedback and coaching regularly; and recognizing and evaluating performance results. In other words, it is a continuous practice of planning, engaging, evaluating, coaching, and developing employee performance.

Within myOhio, supervisors can begin to familiarize themselves with the many components related to Performance Management. Using the Manager Tasks link within the myWorkspace tab, supervisors can navigate to ePerformance, where they are able to create and access all current and historical performance evaluations. Supervisors will notice two columns of similar links to access ePerformance: ePerformance Document, providing access to Annual, Probationary, and Ad Hoc evaluations; and ePerformance Development Document, providing access to Performance Improvement Plan (PIP) and Career Development Plan (CDP) documents.

Tips and Tricks

- If you are new to a supervisory role, you may find it difficult to create performance evaluations for your staff. Within either the ePerformance Document or ePerformance Development Document column you can access your new employees' previous documents within the View-Only Documents link. Doing so may provide insight on your employees' general performance as well as what their goals and expectations were in previous cycles.
- As a supervisor, you can access any document that you created in the past so by clicking the Historical Documents link in either the ePerformance Document or ePerformance Development Document column.
- If you have clicked the Create Documents link in either column and notice that you are missing an employee that reports to you, there are two possible solutions. First, if you know the employee was recently hired or transferred to you, you can adjust the Employee Reporting as of Date field at the top of the screen to reflect a later date (i.e. one within a later pay period). Alternatively, you can contact your agency Human Resources office to have them investigate whether the employee is assigned to the correct supervisor.
